

Mental Health Week Short Film Screening

As part of its 2006 Mental Health Week activities, AFFIRM: The Australian Foundation for Mental Health Research will hold a special screening of 8 finalist entries in the Hope Awards short film competition.

2006 Hope Awards finalist entries

Mental Health Week 2006

Public Screening

The Hope Awards, held in May this year, are designed to counter the stigma and inaccurate stereotypes of mental health problems by promoting more accurate, realistic and optimistic portrayals of people who experience mental illness, through the medium of short film.

For more information about the Hope Awards short film competition see:
www.hopeawards.com.au

This is a free event for the general public. Light refreshments will be available for purchase, and 'glow in the dark' AFFIRM wristbands will be available for sale to raise money for mental health research.

DATE: Monday 9th October 2006

VENUE: Coombs Lecture Theatre
(Fellows Road, ANU Campus).

TIME: 6.00 - 8.00pm

Light refreshments will be available for purchase before the screening.
